"The 2019 vintage saw a very even ripening period with little fluctuations and decent rainfall. Bud break at Kimsey would have been historically "on time" and led to nice development throughout the vineyard. This site is driven by weather more so than soil. The signature foggy mornings that give way to warm and sunny afternoons are brilliant at expressing cool climate characteristics in a slightly riper style. While we are still the first to pick (pretty much every year) we still get those flavors and aromas that we have all come to associate with slightly riper Syrah's.....but at a more manageable acidity and alcohol level. Black pepper, blueberries, iodine, anise, tobacco and cigar box on the nose. A supple structure on the palate with fresh acidity and loads of length.
